home trophies and tote bags from the Elk Point Hotel, along with a cut-and-wrapped butcher hog apiece. The Babcock rink was presented with jackets, while the third place Bristow rink won booster cables and tool boxes, and the fourth place Kinjerski rink won briefcases.

Million dollar building year

In a world of bleak economic forecasts and plunging stock markets, the Town of Elk Point approved building permits totalling over $1.1 million during 1987. Seven new single family homes, plus additions, renovations, garages, sheds and 4 mobile homes moved into town added up to 31 residential building permits valued at $592,500.

The new Auto Centre Complex headlined 8 commercial permits valued at $485,200. Two small offices and a sign, with a total worth of $24,000, made up the 3 industrial permits, while one institutional permit, for a garage at the hospital with a $10,000 value, was issued.

During the year, 64 development applications were received, with 61 of these approved. Sixty-two licences were sold, along with 75 dog licences. Violation tickets were issued in 44 cases, not including lines levied by the Animal Control Officer.

First arrival of 1988

NEW YEAR'S BABY ARRIVES — A 5-lb. baby girl born to Linda Berland and Jack Cree on Wednesday, January 6 at 10:57 a.m. is Elk Point's New Year's Baby for 1988. Here, little Laura and her proud parents are presented with a commemorative gift by Jane Mahon of the Elk Point Lioness Club.

Chamber sets its 1988 fees

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce set the stage for their 50th Anniversary year with an early start on the 1988 membership drive at their January 6 meeting. A new fee schedule was set, and the 1987 membership committee agreed to make the rounds once again.

The personal membership was raised from $5, which does not even cover the per capita fees the local Chamber must pay to the Alberta and Canadian Chambers, to $10, while small businesses with one to 4 employees will enjoy a $5 drop, from $25 to $20. The fee for businesses with 5 to 8 employees was raised from $30 to $35, while large businesses, with 9 or more employees, will pay $50 for the year, up from $35.

The drop in fees for the 1-to-4 employee businesses is aimed at promoting business memberships rather than personal memberships for those who operate the town's smallest businesses. Personal memberships are primarily for those not operating a business, but who wish to be part of the Chamber.

The 1988 membership drive is scheduled to start in the very near future.

Much of the discussion at the year's first meeting centered on the Christmas Countdown Extravaganza, which some business owners told Extravaganza Committee Chairman Larry Demchuk "was their best day in the entire season." Billie Lynne Milholland, who coordinated the entertainment for the well-attended event, agreed that "everyone wants to do it again."

An earlier date, an all-day event, more time to prepare, and the possibility of two separate committees to handle the bingo and the entertainment aspects, were suggestions put forward for next year's Extravaganza. Demchuk praised the efforts of his committee, and the efforts of the Town of Elk Point, the Fire Department, and the volunteers who brought their horses in to town for the most enjoyable hay rides, as well as those who entertained the crowd with caroling, and such special guests as Santa, elves, and assorted furry creatures who added to the fun. "We should be proud of ourselves," he emphasised.

Looking ahead for an encore to the successful event, the Chamber discussed involvement in the Trade Fair and Canada Day, plus tentative plans for a project involving decorated fire hydrants. What next? The chamber is sure to think of something!

Doctors, Board will attend

Members of Elk Point Municipal Hospital's medical staff and Hospital Board have been invited to attend the January 20 meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce to discuss health care in Elk Point and District.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting, held at 12:00 noon at the Empress Family Restaurant's banquet room. A question-and-answer session is on the agenda.

A friendly reminder to local residents

By Bernie Nelson

Licensing / By-Law Enforcement Officer

Now that the snow is here to stay with us (for a while anyway), we are faced with the nasty job of removing snow off the sidewalks.

Once the snow is packed down on the sidewalks they tend to get a bit slippery, also the quicker the snow is removed the easier it is to shovel off.

For the Seniors (and other citizens) who find it difficult to remove their own snow; there are young boys in town who are very willing to help out for a small fee (eg. Boy Scouts, etc.).

If you would like some assistance in this matter contact Marnie at F.C.S.S. (724-3800) or myself at the town office, 724-3810, and we would be more than willing to help you out in this matter.

Skate-a-thon scheduled for January 24

Elk Point Skating Club's annual Skate-a-Thon is set to go Sunday, January 24, from 12 noon until 3 p.m., with all proceeds earmarked for the club's annual donation to the Agricultural Society for arena upkeep.

Separate competitions for boys and girls in the under 6, 7 to 10 and 11 to 14 age brackets, along with Service Clubs, Adult Individuals and the Oilmen's Challenge will keep the ice busy all afternoon. Trophies for each category, as well as for the youngest and oldest skater, will be awarded. All participants under 14 will receive a small trophy for their efforts.

To take part in the Skate-a-Thon, you must be registered by January 20. Please call Barb at 724-3811, Donna at 724-3628, Debbie at 724-3849 or Donna at 724-2652 to register.

Pledge sheets may be picked up at the arena or at the Elementary School.

Come out and join the fun!

SECOND EVENT TROPHIES — Are presented by Ken Hillebrand and Marg Young. The Spence rink took home AC-DC televisions while curling sweaters went to the Young rink. Decorator clocks went to the third place Oryshchuk rink, while the fourth place Schnurer rink won tool boxes.

Packers edge Elks 9 - 8

The penalty-plagued Elk Point Elks lost a close contest with Cold Lake Packers by a single goal Friday night, in a game which saw the Packers score no less than 6 power-play goals against the Elks.

The Elks took an early lead, with two goals in the first 10 minutes, scored by Dale Gochko and Murray Scoggins off assists by John Wozniak and Vic Stepa. Brian Frank opened the Packers' scoreboard at mid-period, with assists by Rod Brown and Guy Dubeau, on a power play. The Elks countered with a power play goal of their own, by Terry Wozniak, assisted by Gochko, while Dubeau scored for the Packers with less than half a minute remaining, off an assist by Frank, to end the first period 3-2 for the Elks.

Scoggins scored his second goal of the evening 5½ minutes into the second period, assisted by Terry Wozniak and Jeff Buck, to give the Elks a two goal lead. Herculean efforts by rookie goalie Tim Martin and the Elks defence squad kept the Packers out of the Elk Point net for nearly 2/3 of the period, when they pounded in a pair of power-play goals in 76 seconds to tie the score. Goals were by Mike Hambley and Rob Blick, with assists by Jean Guy Poitras, Dubeau and Frank.

An Elks goal by Stepa, assisted by Darryl Smith and Willie Lesyk, put the home team ahead for a scant 11 seconds, when the Packers' Frank tied it up again with an unassisted goal. Cold Lake ended the period with a one-goal lead, thanks to the efforts of Rob Thorneycroft, assisted by Poitras and Brown.

Cold Lake gained a 3-goal lead by midway in the third period, with goals by Frank, assisted by Blick, and Dubeau, assisted by Poitras, which spurred the Elks on to renewed efforts. Murray Cochrane scored a hat trick in less than 6 minutes, the final two of these goals coming after a scuffle which earned a game misconduct for one of the Elks and had both penalty boxes filled to capacity. Assisting Cochrane's efforts were Delwin Slemple, Lesyk, T. Wozniak, and Stepa.

The 8-goal tie persisted until, with 1:28 left in the game and the Packers back at full strength, Thorneycroft made the final goal, assisted by Frank, to give Cold Lake a 9-8 victory.

OPENING DAY AT DANDO'S — Murray and Donna Dando presided over the opening of their new clothing store in Elk Point last weekend, and introduced their staff, Alma Bettcher and Betty Myhr to the public. Dando's is a medium priced store offering an attractive variety of apparel for ladies, men and children, and is affiliated with a similar store in Bonnyville, which Murray Dando said will allow the new store to offer a wider range of stock to their Elk Point clientele. Congratulations and the best of luck to this handsome addition to Elk Point's business district.

Predictions

Here we are with an almost-new year stretching out in front of us. What will Elk Point do with the next 352 days? Here are a few predictions...

For sure, continued growth -- more new homes, new businesses, and with the slow-but-sure recovery in the oil patch, new industrial development will be on the scene during 1988, increasing the town's tax base and adding new prosperity with additional jobs for local residents.

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will celebrate its 50th Anniversary, while Elk Point will look back over the 50 years since its incorporation as a village.

Canada Day will be even bigger and better -- we're not sure how, but they, may have to split it into 2 days to find time for all the activities and events.

The first-ever trade fair will be a roaring success, and will bring people from all over the Lakeland to see what Elk Point has to offer.

Some of Elk Point's dedicated bachelors will fall prey to the ladies who are taking advantage of Leap Year to find the man of their dreams. (Get those wedding invitations here, girls!)

Sporting events will take up lots of news space again, this year, with even more winners at the Provincial level than last year.

And finally, rain or no rain, someone will come forth with some huge specimen of vegetation to prove that it was a good year, after all.

Have a happy and prosperous one, everyone!

WINTER IN ALBERTA — Can be watching a spruce and frozen bird-bath (nice if it's -25 degrees).

Alberta Trails

Which way to look?

By Irene Magnusson

I suppose the thing to do today, since I've been gallivanting for weeks, would be to go into a resume of my travels -- but that is looking backwards, and right now I want to look forward.

What has this January in Alberta got to offer us in this our year of 1988? According to my Old Farmer's Almanac, 1988 edition, the weatherman has been delivering dead on so far this year. They predict a snowstorm between the 9 and 13, so if we haven't had that yet, it may be coming. This to be followed by a cold snap, then some nice and mild, with clearing skies. How is that for a cheerful prediction? The remainder of the month is forecast to be clouding up, cold wave, snow, clear, mild, snow and cold -- in that order, ending with zero degrees C. by February first.

So what's to complain about in all that? Good old Alberta weather, that's what it is. And perhaps a bit milder than in years past. I'm sure you all remember back in January 1935, when we had 60 below Fahrenheit every day for two whole weeks during the month of January. (and now I know why they went to Celsius -- anyone can spell that! -- I have to look in my dictionary every time I write Fahrenheit). Most heating was done by wood and coal in those balmy days, and country houses were made of logs. Such a prolonged cold snap raised havoc on the woodpiles, and there was lots of snapping and popping as the cold set into the logs.

I bought a new Weather Trivia calendar in the Vancouver Airport, thinking to read it in my waiting time and on the way home -- but I couldn't. It is too dismal, every day there was a terrible storm somewhere, at some time, with loss of life, stuck trains, collapsed bridges. Even remembering that last year, Jan. 10, 1987, the temperature was 17 degrees C. in Calgary, warmer by a few points than Las Vegas -- not that I've ever been to Las Vegas but I've heard it is heaven on earth in winter for Albertans (weatherwise) -- so I guess we had a few things to brag about in our weather conditions last January.

The other thing about January is -- we are past Christmas, and the poor distraught mothers, off their rockers with kids over the holidays, can relax a little, enjoy their "Soaps" once again in quiet (I hope) and settle down to normal living again. Of course, they will have another half-ton of toys to trip over, but most will have finished off all the left-overs by now, taken down the decorations, figured out where to put all the newly acquired knick-knacks, and gotten back to the exercise classes. Perhaps it is not too late to wish you, one and all, a happy, healthy and stress-reduced New Year?

That is what I wished for myself, and while I no longer make 'resolutions' I will be working towards those goals. I plan to try to find out whatever it is that may be bugging me, fix it if I can (but only if it's broken) and what I can't fix I will ignore. That's for the stress-reduced part. For the healthy, I hope to eat more sensibly, lots of fiber, less sugars and fats, lots of exercise, and all the sleep I can stuff into any six hours per night.

I don't know what all we can do to bring on the 'happy' part of life. Perhaps just keeping busy? We seem to rely a lot on other people around us to make us happy, especially family, and since I don't have too many family members close anymore, I'll probably rely more on friends, along with the great outdoors, wildlife, books and electronic voices. Doing a decent piece of work once in awhile can make a person feel happier -- maybe I can think of something worthwhile to work at?

And there is always music; the great stuff created by others, or the not-so-great but still soul-satisfying sounds we make ourselves. My little organ has shook and quivered more than once, as I sought to wring some pains and joys out of it.

Another activity which many of you share and will understand, is carrying that little black box around, everlastingly trying for the perfect shot, that one really great photo, which we camera-hounds know is out there. One of my activities this year may be pitching out all those countless failures...but maybe not. There are hosts of memories in those little cardboards, tucked in those envelopes (even a few in albums) too precious to huck out.

Did you notice all the seed catalogues in the mail recently? I'm sure we should all spend a few hours looking at the pictures and reading the glowing terms. They could restoreth our faith in continuing life. How can we possibly wait until May for the crocuses, until June for the roses, July for the poppies to blow? I get all excited over the green peas, and the continuing surprises of my mixed flower row. I walk up and down the driveway in May, looking for the first saskatoon blossom, the first blue violet. I muck through the swamp in search of those little green balls that show where marsh marigolds will burst -- and return again and again to feast on the mind-boggling thousands that fill the deep dark reaches for those few days of their glory, wishing for someone to share them with.

Now I've been down that path, and seen spring just around the corner I must get back to the present, and go out and sweep off the porch. And find my skis. And wax them and use them...There are such a lot of things to do with winter, shall we get through before spring comes? I wonder if ever in my life I have thought "I have nothing to do"? Thank you, whoever is reading this, for allowing me to share a bit of your time, to be 'doing something' with you. Have a great year!

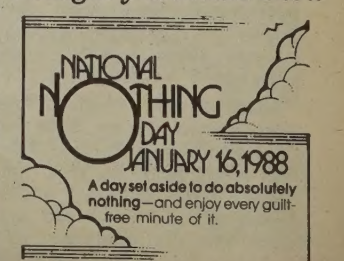

Alumni wanted

In 1938 the Camrose Normal School for teacher preparation closed its doors for the last time. Now, 50 years later, the Normal School Alumni would like to celebrate this event by having a reunion for all those students who attended the normal school in Camrose between 1912 and 1938.

The reunion is being held June 3/4, 1988 in the City of Camrose. The Normal School Alumni, along with the Canadian Schooling Project at the Faculty of Education wish to contact these students in order to compile a reunion mailing list.

Former students are invited and encouraged to write Dr. R. S. Patterson, Dean of Education, Faculty of Education, University of Alberta T6G 2G5. (or phone 432-3751).

Thought you should know

THE WHITE ALONG THE ROAD CAN BE OTHER THAN SNOW -- When northern bedstraw and Canadian anemones are in bloom -- and, yes spring WILL come. It always has.

Letter to the Editor

Fond memories of Ludwigs' Elk Point adventure

December 20, 1987
1810 - 22nd St. S.E.,
Washington, D.C.

Hello - Season's Greetings! I'm having difficulty starting this latest annual chapter of a civil servant's trials and tribulations in and about the often exhilarating reclaimed marshlands of our nation's capital. I've put it off as long as possible, fretting, pondering - how does one begin a letter of such diverse purpose? I've concluded in favor of the serious, to reflect upon the joy of living, to give thanks for yet one more year of precarious good health and busy (and hopefully) purposeful existence here on earth, for the gift of life, for the opportunity to be here communing with all of you albeit scattered about the globe - friends and acquaintances I have come to regard and love as an extended family.

It has indeed been a year of the family, ending with this month's exertions at Christmas gift shopping, wrapping, packing and mailing (who can forget the thrill of elbowing one's way through a mobbed 'Toys 'R Us' searching for Sketchadoodles, Popples, Dizzy Dinosaurs, or the indignation of suffering the humiliating antics of pompous postal clerks making mincemeat of not only your ego, (but parcels and pocketbooks as well?) It began last March with my annual visit home to Los Angeles, to renew and strengthen those personal bonds between parent and child, between brother and sister, between uncle and niece.

Somewhere during this action packed week, probably while dining together with mom and Lorenzo, Leslie and Frank, Lynne and Allison and Amanda at my favorite Veracruz restaurant in Alhambra - a pleasant place featuring strolling musicians with those harplike instruments of Veracruz as well as exquisite seafood specialties typical of the Bay of Campeche area of southeastern Mexico, somehow amidst mouth stuffing morsels the idea was born, given shape and form, to follow up on Uncle John's recently finished book on the Ludwig family Canadian adventure during the 1910's - 1920's, when our grandparents, Emily and Rudolph left Burlington, Vermont, to make a new living in western Canada, before finally settling in southern California. Most especially, we wished to view first hand the site of the Ludwig homestead and log cabin, the enduring physical link to the incredibly difficult, traumatic if not epic-like pioneering experience of our forebearers in the remote and rugged hills of Elk Point, Alberta. Months of subsequent preparation resulted in an August family reunion, where cousin Sandy and daughter Tanya, Leslie and daughter Tasha, Lynne and Jim and daughters Allison and Amanda, my mother and I joined together to experience an incredibly warm and generous welcome by the community of Elk Point. Spearheaded by the most able, affable, and infectious enthusiastic leadership of Sid and his wife Muriel Holthe, and assisted by Irene Lindquist, Mary Bennet, Frank Mayner and other members of the Elk Point Historical Society, as well as His Worship, Byron Mann, Mayor of Elk Point, we pilgrims and first time visitors to Northern Alberta were treated by what seemed the entire populace of Elk Point to an old fashioned Canadian breakfast held at the home of the Holthes featuring delicious home smoke-cured bacon, homemade chokecherry syrup and honest-to-goodness made-from-scratch flapjacks, as well as words of welcome from the mayor. This was followed by a large and more formal picnic gathering at the "Ludwig Place", the homestead clearing just a few miles north of town alongside beautiful Long or Kehewin Lake, where yet another feast was served highlighting traditional pioneer fare such as moose and venison stew, bannock bread, freshly harvested boiled potatoes, rhubarb sauce, canned Saskatoon berries and homemade ice cream. Interspersed between the feasting were tours of the homestead grounds - including the spot where the log cabin had stood, the well (still in use) grandfather had dug, the living survivors of grandmother's original rhubarb plants, and the fields that grandfather and some of my uncles had cleared of trees using only horse and backpower with the help of a little dynamite; games and races; and a presentation ceremony wherein we were first welcomed by Sid Holthe (who managed to videotape the entire affair), and then by the representative of our grandparents' neighboring homestead family, Irene Lindquist, and the Elk Point Historical Society. We in turn expressed our thanks for the hospitality and warmth of their welcome, and mutually proceeded to explore the meaning and significance of Emily and Rudolph's homestead odyssey. There was also an eager, if not fervent binge, by all of us USA'ers in the adjacent wild raspberry patch - just oodles and oodles of luscious ripe berries waiting to be picked and instantly savoured, until a friendly local resident admonished us to beware of the wild hornets' nests! Other highlights of our three day Elk Point stay featured visits to the Kehewin Woodland Cree Indian Reserve adjacent to the homestead, to the Bennet's charming and still active farming homestead, and to the Holthe's home for coffee, a viewing of the reunion video tape, and the receipt of numerous gift pins - the beginning of our now extensive Albertan lapel pin collections, followed by the sumptuous farewell breakfast of the Holthes and Ludwigs at the Empress Lounge.

From Elk Point we Ludwigs captured as much of Alberta as time and our two rent-a-cars would allow, seeing the Vegreville Easter Egg, the Fort and Mall at Edmonton, and the amazing Rockies between Jasper and Banff including a luncheon stop at spectacular Lake Louise - we dined in the Chateau's seventh floor restaurant with a never to be forgotten view of the turquoise blue lake, surrounded by 10,000 to 11,000 foot mountain peaks and icy milk white glaciers. We also saw the 1988 Winter Olympic cross-country skiing facilities at Canmore and the ski jump and sled runs outside of Calgary, visited the Calgary Tower, as well as the sensational Tyrrell Dinosaur Museum in Drumheller and the nearby Horsethief Canyon and badlands (a miniature Grand Canyon) before saying goodbye to each other at the Calgary airport.

I continued on (completing my three week summer vacation) by driving through the prairie wheatlands with their ubiquitous cathedral-like grain elevators to the Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump Interpretative Center (where Plains Indians drove buffalo over cliffs for 5,000 years) near Ft. Macleod (site of the very first Royal Mounted Police station), before heading on into the Rockies of British Columbia and the "Top of the World" dude ranch at Fort Steele where I hiked hours on end along mountain trails totally alone (except for, as I was later told, an occasional black or grizzly bear). I travelled on to Seattle, Washington, where I overnighted with cousin Jackie and husband Skip, who together with visiting Aunt Dorothy, favored me with a beautiful sunny day cruising in their motorboat along Lake Washington, the Washington Ship Canal and Puget Sound, highlighted by humongous sized king salmon who, finding themselves temporarily halted on the journey to their spawning grounds, were leaping about the canal locks, and the salmon steak dinner at Ivar's Salmon House, built in the style of the Northwest Indians. The next morning found me on my way across the State of Washington to visit with my cousin Sharon (who I hadn't seen in 25 years) and her horse ranch in the town of Colville. I spent a week revitalizing my western/cowboy roots, pitching in with the barn work and stable feeding and cleaning chores, weeding, harvesting, and enjoying the company of my 'cuz' as she sang and played the guitar, taught me about rodeos, took me on horse rides in the mountains (where I learned - and survived mind you - about lunges, lopes and "rare to go's" - more commonly known as jumps, leaps and bucks), and showed me her stern western stuff by winning third place at a local barrel horse race (both rough and dangerous).

(Sorry, Larry, we had to edit your other '87 adventures! Sounds like you had a busy year!)

All in all, a busy and fulfilling year. I'm out of space again. Take care. Be cool. Have a good 1988! Larry Ludwig

THE CHRISTMAS BABY AT ELK POINT MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL — Arrived at 8:15 a.m., December 25, 1987. Little Aaron Evan Nathan, who weighed seven pounds and fourteen and a half ounces, is seen in the arms of his mother, Bonnie Smith of Frog Lake. Presentation of a pair of sleepers and an engraved baby spoon, on behalf of the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary is made by Treasurer Violet McFadyen.

Save money on your electricity bill. Use a power timer. Set it to turn on your car's block heater or interior warmer three or four hours before you need the vehicle.

Another money-saving idea is using a Power Saver Cord, which operates only when the coolant in your block heater drops below a certain temperature.

If you plug in your vehicle without a timer, or if you operate a block heater more than four hours, you waste both energy and money.

This winter, take the time to plug into energy savings.

Only you can use electricity wisely. Start now.

ON BEHALF OF THE ELK POINT HOSPITAL AUXILIARY — Several gifts were presented to the Pediatric Ward of Elk Point Hospital by President Mrs. Wasy Elashuk. Mrs. Diana Anderson D.O.N. and a member of Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary, demonstrates a mobile to a little patient who is held by nurse Mrs. Barb Yopyk. Among the gifts were two mobiles, a "Corkscrew" Eduframe, many coloring books and crayons.

Corby Cup zones in Elk Point

by Brian Schnurer
Publicity Director

With the curling season in full swing, it is again time for many curlers to try and capture top honors in the many district and zone playdowns.

Among the honors sought after is the prestigious Elks Corby Cup, sponsored by Corby Distillers Canadian Division. During the last few weeks, the various Elks lodges throughout the provinces of Canada have been holding their individual playdowns. From each lodge's playdowns, a rink is determined to advance to district playdowns. If victorious there, the rink is off to zones, then to provincials, and then to the big finale, the Corby Cup itself.

Elks Lodge #460, Elk Point, will be represented by the rink of Dave Yake, Walter Skolarchuk, Wayne Smith and Don Brooker, which emerged victorious after some very exciting and hard-fought games. After defeating the determined rink of Albert Boratyne, Orville Swedgan, Lawrence Pidluzny and Rick Lazariuk in a best of three series, they went on to defeat the rink of Allan Berg, Archie Poleschuk, John Brooker and Paul Ewasiuk in a second three game series to win the right to advance to District 10 playdowns in Mannville on January 15, 16 and 17, in the Junior division. Representing Elks Lodge #460 in the Senior division will be the rink of Phil Sheplaw, Walter Yaremkevich, Orville Swedgan and Morris Cooper. Good luck to the curlers in their endeavors at Mannville.

The rinks representing Elks Lodge #460, if successful at Mannville, will then travel back to Elk Point on January 22, 23 and 24 for the zone playdowns. This is guaranteed to be top quality curling and will provide many curling enthusiasts and local people with some very entertaining curling.

At this point, I would like to mention that because of the Corby ruling, a host club is allowed a team to enter regardless of the outcome. Therefore, if the Yake rink is victorious at Mannville, the Allan Berg rink, which finished second in the Elk Point Lodge playdowns, would also be allowed to compete in the Zones playdowns. If the Yake rink is defeated at Mannville, they will still be entitled to curl in the zone playdown as the host club's rink. This ruling applies to the Senior division as well. Both divisions would appreciate a good turnout of people to cheer them on at Elk Point. Elk Point could be represented by four individual rinks, giving the people of Elk Point many local curlers to cheer for.

The winner of the Zones at Elk Point will advance to Provincials, with the winner from there going on to the Corby Cup itself. Who knows, this might be the year for the Corby Cup to make its home for a brief period in its history in Elk Point, Alberta.

Until next week, good luck to all the curlers from myself, fellow brothers of the Lodge and many friends, family members and people of the town.

THREE PHILIPS STEREO RADIO CASSETTE — Recorders were presented by President Mrs. Wasy Elashchuk and Treasurer Mrs. Violet McFadyen, on behalf of the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary for patient use. Mrs. Amelia Jasinsky, Ward Clerk of Elk Point Hospital, accepts on behalf of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk

January is a busy month around Clandonald. The 4-H clubs have their regular meetings; the Sewing Club met on Saturday, and the Beef Club will meet on Wed., Jan. 13 at 7 p.m.

There is skating every day in the arena, provided that the supervisors are on hand to take their turn. The list has been sent out from the school with the Jan. 5 newsletter. Please be sure to take your turn or arrange for someone to be there for you. Skating tickets are available from Shirley Grant.

The Curling Club would like help to paint the ice in the curling rink on Sat., Jan. 16, at 1 p.m. Contact Ted Etherington. There will be other volunteer help needed as the curling season gets under way. Loretta Harasiuk would like to hear from all the ladies interested in afternoon curling. Call her at 741-2167.

Everyone is invited to a film presentation called "The Visible Ag Society" on Mon., Jan. 18. This film would be of help to all organizations which would like to explain to the public what they stand for, and get people interested and involved.

On Wed., Jan. 20, Bible Study will begin again at 7 p.m. at Pastor & Mrs. Elich's home. The study will be of 1 Peter.

Also on Wed., Jan. 20 there will be a Whist Drive at Landonville Hall at 7 p.m.

COMING SOON!! the second annual Clandonald Winter Carnival!

-Snow sculptures: Contact Marie Lawrence, student's council president to enter, either group or individual. The sculptures will be judged at noon on Fri., Jan. 22, and ribbons presented to winners at the Dimetime Carnival in the evening.

-Dimetime Carnival: 7 to 9 p.m. Friday. Coffee and concession available. Fun and games for everyone.

-Pancake Brunch: 10 to 12 a.m. on Saturday, at the Hall.

-Saturday afternoon: horse-drawn sleigh rides around town, skating party at the arena with free skating, races, games and refreshments courtesy of the Ag Society.

-Curling Funspiel: contact Anne Etherington at 853-2188 or Theresa McNamara at 853-2297 to enter.

-Pot Luck supper at the Hall, Sat., 5 p.m., sponsored by the 4-H clubs which will provide coffee, plates and utensils, in appreciation of the community support they receive.

-Talent Show: Saturday at 7 p.m. in the school gym. The small admission charge will go to help finance the Grade 9 trip to Quebec in April. The Fish and Game have helped sponsor the trophies. Dig out your hidden talents and call Leah Anne Grant at 853-2103 or Diane Bardeol at 853-2526 to enter.

There will be something for everyone at very little cost at the Winter Carnival. One new feature this year is the "family challenge event". A family will challenge another family to a game, eg. card game, ping pong, Trivial Pursuit. Both families' names will be entered in a draw for a Dinner for Four at Kentucky Fried Chicken. Games can be played any time before Jan. 22, 8 p.m., when the entry form must be submitted to Judy Carter. Call Judy at 853-4935.

Plan to "Take an Alberta Break" in Clandonald on Jan. 22 and 23. There will be something to do (or watch) for everyone.

Congratulations to Rick and Delilah Shortt on the arrival of their baby girl, born Jan. 5/88. Both are reported doing well in the Lloydminster hospital.

Saddle Slickers 4-H report

By Jolene Aarbo

On Dec. 18/87 our club with the Multi and Beef Club held our Christmas party.

Since our club held it we had to be there first to set things up.

A lot of people brought games to play until the dinner was ready. Every family brought one main dish for the supper.

Some people also brought skates so they could go skating too.

After supper, Santa came to hand out some Christmas gifts. We all were happy what we got.

We then played games and visited with the other clubs.

On Dec. 21 our club went on a cookie drive. Before the 21 we had to have 3 dozen cookies baked, each. We all went to Twila Kenyon's house to get the cookies together so we could give them to senior citizens in Elk Point.

After everyone got there we started to decorate and get the cookies together. We each took one plate and took two cookies of each kind made and put them on their plate and after the plates were all filled up we decorated and put saran wrap on the plates. Boy were they pretty.

We then split into 2 groups. The group (all boys) took 6 plates and took them to different houses and our group (all girls) took 6 plates and delivered them to different people. All of the people that we gave them to were very happy and some even offered us money for them! After we were all done we were all very happy that we had made some people happy for Christmas.

WHAT'S NEWS

at the Library

Registration fees for 1988 are now due at the Elk Point Public Library. Fees for the year are: $8.00 for a family, $4.00 per adult member and $2.00 per student or child.

The Library's Annual Meeting will be held at the Library on Tuesday, January 19, 7:30 p.m., with the general public welcome to attend.

Some of the new books received in recent weeks include:

Starting Out by Pierre Berton, in which the popular Canadian writer tells about the first 27 years of his life;

The Discovery of the Titanic by Dr. Robert Ballard, regarding Ballard's quest to find the massive ocean liner which sunk in 1912 after a collision with an iceberg;

The Illustrated History of Canada, edited by Craig Brown, this is a story of how Canadians have lived and worked, how they have seen themselves and how they have thought about each other;

Misery by Steven King is a nightmare only Steven King could write;

Spy Catcher by Peter Wright is a candid autobiography of a British Senior Intelligence Officer;

Metamorphosis by David Suzuki tells about the stages in Suzuki's life;

Time Flies by Bill Cosby;

Rick Hanson: Man in Motion.

Library hours: Monday and Thursday, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Storytime Fridays at 10:30 a.m.

Other services: We have a photocopier. Extended library services and reliable information sources. Public meeting space available to non-profit organizations at no charge. Please call Elk Point Library for booking at 724-3737.

Thank You

The St. John's Ukrainian Greek Catholic Parish of Northern Valley would like to thank their carolers, as well as all the people who accepted them into their homes with such hospitality and generosity.

Card of Thanks

ANDRIASCHUK

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation and gratitude to our relatives, friends and neighbors, for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy they extended to us during the loss of our beloved Mother, Grandmother and Great-Grandmother JENNY ANDRIASCHUK.

We are truly grateful for the spiritual offerings, floral tributes, sympathy cards, baking and donations to numerous charities and phone calls received.

A special thank you to Dr. McNeilly and Nursing staff of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital, Elk Point R.C.M.P. and Elk Point & District Ambulance. Special thanks to the pallbearers, Father Ivan Stus, Mr. and Mrs. Metro Hyshka and the church choir. Yewchin's Funeral Chapel for their valuable assistance in our time of need. We are grateful to the Church ladies and all the ladies who served lunch in the evening and dinner after the service. May God Bless You All!!

Elk Point Municipal Library surveys FGM students' needs

By Laura Mackay
In October of last year, I, with the help and support of the Elk Point Library Board and Principal Bob Tredger conducted a Junior/Senior High Survey. This survey provided our library with the information needed to consider more youth programs and services, as well it helped to answer a few questions I had asked and no-one else could really answer but these young people themselves. Questions like where were they going what were they doing, did they use any of the existing programs, and what programs or services would they use and enjoy?
With 255 out of 290 young people in our Junior and Senior High, this survey was completed and I think very successfully. However I think it indicated strongly that our young people want and really need much more. Here is a summarized version of these survey results, with great hopes that it will encourage this great community and all its community groups and organizations to assess their present youth programs and to spend this year, 1988, creating permanent programs geared toward these young people's interests.

If I may be of any assistance or if anyone wishes to obtain a copy of the full survey results please contact me at P.O. Box 316 Elk Point, Alta.
